

High Time!

Sydney Tower Restaurant has been returned to iconic glory by a new vision and a spectacular makeover that complements the sublime panoramic views.

In March 2006 new management came armed with a fresh vision to revive the iconic status of Sydney Tower Restaurant for Sydney siders and visitors alike and with the recent completion of a makeover (reputed to be $1m) diners can reengage with our Sydney icon through a contemporary and vibrant buffet dining experience.

Talented young architect, Mia Feasey, Managing Director of Sydney based, all female, Siren Design Group supported by Bryan Abbott of Hospitality Project Solutions (HPS) and Craftsman Interiors have delivered a modern, Australian style to complement the spectacular views.

Diners alighting the elevator at 305metres above the city get their first taste of the spectacular Sydney skyline along with a whimsical black and white mural emanating Australian character.

“The Wow factor kicks in the moment you step out of the lift. And it’s not just the dazzling 360 degree panoramic views...it’s the witty mural and understated interior...which takes your breath away.” Mia Feasey, Siren Design Group

Every table has uninterrupted, 360 degree views of the Sydney skyline and diners complete the full rotation in approximately 70 minutes – enough time to enjoy the self select, international buffet comprising fresh local produce and a range of Australian and international choices prepared by Executive Chef, Ken Parry.

Ken says “Sydney Tower Restaurant’s buffet concept was first established 25 years ago and now caters for over 185,000 Sydney residents and international and domestic tourists each year. It clearly stands alone with its unique combination of location, views and variety of cuisine. Now with the addition of its fresh and vibrant makeover, and our own quality oysters and world famous Terra Rossa Beef enhancing the menu, we will attract our diners back again and again”.

Put simply, there is not another buffet restaurant that offers such an appealing variety of local and international cuisine combined with such spectacular views in an iconic attraction such as Sydney Tower anywhere else in Sydney or indeed Australia. Visit Sydney Tower Restaurant and see it for yourself!
